2012 sees BMW invite all regatta and amateur sailors to the seventh year of its unique amateur sailing series. The 2012 BMW Sailing Cup Germany will host several qualification regattas throughout Germany.

All regattas feature Fleet racing. The winning teams at all the regattas will be rewarded with a ticket to the German Final to be held in Hamburg.

B.MID

These are the fabrics for first and second layer garments. The new generation of functional knitwear optimized after years of experience. Fabrics that combine extraordinary heat insulation and breathability with comfort and lightness.

The structure of the fabric wicks moisture outward, eliminating the perspiration formed during intense physical activity (AEROCONTROL), guaranteeing a constant body temperature. The material is soft and smooth on the skin, non-allergic, and does not product irritating rustling noises and is easy to care for.

TechInfo: FIELDSENSORTM

Moisture Management Fabric

- Effective moisture management combined with high insulation for warm, perspiration-free comfort
- A unique multi-layered 3-dimensional fabric which efficiently transports perspiration outward through capillary action, keeping the wearer dry and comfortable
- Quickly absorbs perspiration
- Carries perspiration rapidly to the fabric's outer surface
- Disperses perspiration throughout the fabric for rapid evaporation
- Tight knitting construction protects you from wind chill, and high breathability allows air circulation within the fabric

TECHINFO TEMPERATURE CONTROL SYSTEM (TCS):

efficiency underwear is the perfect basic layer for breathable garments: insulating, breathable & vapour transporting.

we distinguish the following 3 layers of the TCS:

1. basic layer (underwear)
2. insulating layer (mid layer)
3. outer layer (functional jacket)

basic layer: the basic layer (e.g. efficiency underwear) is worn directly on the skin and must be made of non-absorbing synthetic fibre to insulate and transport the vapour away from the skin. never use cotton underwear as it will absorb the sweat causing a chilly and damp feeling.

insulating layer: the insulating layer is the middle or 2nd layer, you can choose from a wide range of garments or fibres. nowadays mostly synthetic fibres like polyester are being used as they insulate even when wet.

outer layer: this layer has three main tasks: 1. protect the middle layer from humidity (waterproof), 2. transport the humidity away from the mid layer (breathable), 3. stop the wind to prevent temperature loss (windbreaker)

Marinepool Base Layers are helping you to maintain your performance regardless of weather conditions or activity level.

They can be worn for active sailing in warm conditions or as base layers under other layers.

Marinepool Base Layers are high wicking with low water absorption due to the polyester/polypropylene fibres. Moreover they are ultra light weight, while offering exceptional thermal comfort and effectively protect the skin from damaging sun rays. The combination of these innovative fibres with elastane produces a close-fitting comfortable garment with exceptional stretchy characteristics, ideal for all kinds of sports.

The virtually seam free construction allows for body mapping technology with strategic vent zones, areas of warmth and 3D protective knit. Mesh areas under the arms and the warmest body areas guarantee optimal breathing. Areas which need cushioning such as shoulders and knees have a more dense structure to increase protection. Ergonomic construction at the armpit and shoulder leads to even greater mobility. A tight fit on the sides prevents from bothersome folds.

The new generation of base layers actively supports the maintenance of an optimal body climate like never before, crucial for athletes to perform at their best and for your sense of well-being.

Energy Team Official Challenger 34th America's Cup

2011 has seen the successful introduction of the new AC45 and AC72 multihull classes for the America's Cup – impressive, state of the art catamarans with live TV bringing all the action, excitement, energy and power of these boats alive.

Marinepool and Energy Team France, with campaign backing from the prestigious Yacht Club de France, have joined forces in an attempt to win the America's Cup. The team is lead by sailing legends Loick and Bruno Peyron, heroes in France and two of the most celebrated sailing figures around the globe.

Loick Peyron, the younger of the two brothers, is one of the most accomplished sailors in the world of sailing. Famous not only for his achievements in the international multi hull circuits but also as winner of the Barcelona World Race and holder of the outright world record for a circumnavigation. Bruno, his elder brother, has an equally impressive sailing track record. He was the first winner of the Jules Verne Trophy for the round-the-world sailing record. He also was the mastermind behind „The Race“ an epic non-stop around-the-world race in 100 foot catamarans which stunned the world.

The Peyron brothers have been involved in competitive professional sailing for the past 30 years and now teamed up to win the last trophy that has eluded them and their nation. Marinepool is proud to be part of this challenge and to join two of the world's finest sailors in their effort.

Dark colors heat up stronger when exposed to direct sunlight compared to light colors. This no longer needs to happen! Now there is coldblack®, a special finishing technology for textiles which reduces heat build-up and provides reliable protection from UV rays.

The coldblack® finishing only contains "bluesign® approved" components. "bluesign® approved" components are as low as possible in harmful substances, making them benign to mankind and the environment and encouraging the economical and ecological use of resources in the production process.

BMW SAIL RACING ACADEMY. SET SAILS FOR JOY.

The BMW Sail Racing Academy is a 3-day event for advanced yachtsmen. Sailing represents exclusiveness, dynamics and sophistication, as well as technological perfection and precision – all these characteristics and the continuing challenge that sailing is known for.

The participants will be provided with advanced training in sail racing techniques and will explore racing strategies under the guidance of a professional team composed of yachting experts, umpires and training specialists. Training will be held on brand-new ELAN 210 boats at the scenic Marina of Portorož, Slovenia. Furthermore everyone enjoys three nights of 5-star accommodation.

To keep the experience unique, the number of participants is limited.

Since 2005 Marinepool – within the framework of the German Dragon Grand Prix – has been actively supporting the World Childhood Foundation. Every year we proudly join in and gladly support the foundation in the fight for children’s rights to a safe and happy childhood.

“We are glad to have won over Marinepool as a supporter of the Childhood Charity Golf & Race. The wonderful shirts with the Childhood-logo, worn by all competitors in the Childhood Race, epitomize the collective sportive standing in for a good cause – to help children in distress.

During the annual charity event, organized in Boltenhagen, Germany, golfers and sailors not only compete against each other but join forces and the winners eventually are the children, our hope for the future. “We heartily want to thank Marinepool for this great and successful cooperation!”

ISO 12402

Products newly designed, developed and introduced to market will be approved to ISO12402.

These standards are intended to ensure that all lifejackets sold meet very stringent requirements regarding the design, performance, materials and components used and even give guidelines regarding the information to be provided to the customer about the lifejacket.

- More stringent test criteria meaning lifejackets have to be far superior in every way

- All components must be individually approved then assembled together and approved as a lifejacket
- Annual surveillance testing for safety harness and a 5 year certification for the product meaning every 5 years it needs renewing
- Accepted worldwide (except USA)

All of the above have 1 outcome. A superior performing product in every possible way.

Marinepool lifejackets providing unrivalled comfort, security and support for users. Designed to outperform the ISO 12402 requirements, providing increased performance in the most demanding of environments.

The Hammar Standard System

Some big-benefit features of the Hammar manual/automatic lifejacket inflator

- unique hydrostatic valve that protects the water sensitive element. No activation in rain, spray, splash and humidity (1)
- single point indicator (green) shows that the inflator is ready for use (2)
- cylinder seal indicator (green) ensures that the cylinder has not been used (2)
- gas cylinder located inside the life- jacket bladder. Cylinder protected against corrosion, reduces snagging hazard (3)
- no service requirement of the inflator cap for 5 years.

The manual/automatic version works like this: when the inflator is lowered more than about 4 inches in the water, then the hydrostatic valve opens and lets the water meet the water sensitive element (4a), that in turn releases a stainless steel coil spring. The spring then drives a needle into the end of the gas cylinder, which is now punctured so that the gas instantly fills the lifejacket (4b). total buoyancy is normally reached within 4 – 5 seconds.

If you want to test your lifejacket in water, you can do this without activating the inflator. Just inflate your jacket through the oral tube and then go swimming. The counter pressure inside the bladder will prevent the hydrostatic valve from opening! That way you will not use up your gas cylinder. After your swim, let the jacket dry off, and then deflate it. techinfo:

Maintenance of your Automatic Life Jacket

In order to maintain full functionality, your life jacket has to get serviced – similar to your car – in regular intervals. During this service check we test the integrity of the buoyancy bladder and the release mechanism/inflator.

After the check we apply a service badge on the life jacket showing the date of the next scheduled service. Only a perfectly maintained life jacket can save your life!

Please send your life jacket to the following address:
MARINEPOOL SPORTARTIKEL GMBH & CO. KG
Fraunhoferstraße 6, 82152 Planegg/germany

Please add a delivery note with the life jacket's serial number and a return address to your shipment. For your convenience we have provided a service form for download at www.marinepool.com

Auration of maintenance service:

As a thumb rule, our maintenance service will take 1-2 weeks. At the start of the sailing season it is possible that due to high demand the service will take longer. That's why we suggest you send in your life jacket in time!

MARINEPOOL LAYER SYSTEM

MARINEPOOL 2 Layer

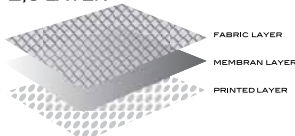

2 LAYER

In 2-layer fabric the outside material is laminated onto a membrane. This requires an additional inside lining to protect the membrane from damage and abrasion. Furthermore this lining forms a layer in between the skin and the membrane that reduces or avoids sweating.

MARINEPOOL 2.5 LAYER

2,5 LAYER

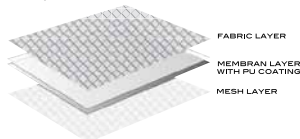

Marinepool developed a new generation of 2.5 layer fabrics which had to undergo extensive testing before they went into production. The first layer is a hard wearing outer fabric (e.g. Nylon) which is water repellent. The second layer (=coating) is the functional layer. Without an additional lining the coating would be unprotected and would stick to the skin when sweating. The innovation in the new generation is an inside protective layer on the coating which includes tiny airpockets in between the coating and the skin, so a lining is no longer required.

This results in extremely reduced weight and a fabric with excellent functionality, i.e. waterproofness and breathability. In a test of the renown German magazine "segeln" our Tacoma came out as the very best in breathability of 21 Jackets by well known producers (for details see chapter "SAILING").

MARINEPOOL 3 Layer

3+1 LAYER

This is how the Marinepool 3 layer fabric works:

The outer shell (normally Nylon) has to suite the operating conditions, so we use for light outdoor jacket light weight and rip-proof fabric (like Rip-stop), on the other hand for offshore sailing gear hard wearing fabric (like Nylon Oxford) is used.

This outer shell is equipped with a water and soil resisting finish (see also DWR). Onto this outer shell the membrane is laminated – it gives the fabric its functionality.

Premium sailing wear gets an additional PU coating between outer shell and membrane – it protects against salt crystals and avoids clogging of the membrane (this kind of fabric is also called '4 layer' – see also XPU und XPU Stretch membrane).

The last and innermost layer – often a thin net – protects the membrane against abrasion and makes the fabric more eudermic, so with a 3 layer fabric there is no need for a lining. A 3 or 4 layer fabric is very likely tougher than a 2 or 2.5 layer fabric.

MARINEPOOL XPU Stretch Membrane

Marinepool's innovative Stretch line of functional clothing sets new standards. Three layer stretch material makes body conscious design possible, the result: clothing that follows the body's contours, is lighter and optimizes freedom to move.

There are two different kinds of fabrics, 2-layer and 3-layer fabrics. A 2-layer fabric is composed of an outer fabric on which the second layer, the MARINEPOOL XPU membrane, is laminated. While the first gives the garment its durability, making sure it is hard wearing and tough, the PU coating on the latter provides perfect protection from salt crystals and effectively prevents these from clogging the membrane, thus sustaining full breathability when worn at sea.

Two layer fabric necessarily requires an inside lining to protect the sensitive membrane from abrasion and chafe. Usually a functional lining conveying dampness is used for this purpose (see functional lining). In 2-layer fabrics the stretchy characteristics of a fabric are shown to their best advantage, in 3-layer fabrics the emphasis is on the protection of the membrane (by the third - inside - layer).

All fabrics are thoroughly tested by our professional teams in challenging conditions- races like the Vendée Globe, Route du Rhum, Around Alone). The fabrics are exceptionally abrasion resistant, highly breathable and therefore ideal for use in offshore conditions. All seams are sealed under heat with XPU-Tape guaranteeing 100% waterproof gear. Some producers use stretch inserts for certain parts of a suit only, but to take full advantage of the outstanding qualities of stretch fabric it is necessary to produce the whole suit of stretch material and also to pay special attention to design and the direction and positioning of seams and design features.

MARINEPOOL XPU-MEMBRANE

Wind, cold and humidity are the variables influencing body temperature and a substantial factor in the perceived well-being and the performance of an athlete.

EXTREME WATERPROOFNESS

No sport requires more from clothing than water sports. Sitting and kneeling e.g. in sailing puts much higher pressure on fabrics than any other activity. The Marinepool XPU-Membrane remains waterproof in the worst of conditions and keeps the body dry. The membrane is wind-proof as well and makes sure there is no cooling effect on the body. The membrane is designed to regulate the body climate, on one side to avoid overheating in times of high activity and on the other side to avoid hypothermia in between maneuvers while being inactive.

HIGH BREATHABILITY

The new XPU-Membrane guarantees quick transport outside of surplus humidity which is produced by the human body when highly active. Thus it avoids the build up of moisture inside the clothing and keeps the body climate in balance. Even after washing the gear many times and after heavy use this technology remains fully functional.

Our XPU-Membrane shows the following characteristics:

Micro-porous PU-coating with non-porous membrane, DWR (durable water repellency) treated surface for long lasting water repellency.

Extreme waterproof (water column 20.000 mm), highly breathable (20.000*g/sqm/24h), durable water repellency (DWR) (min. 80 points after 20 times washing, PU-coating, specially designed for use in salt water: protects the membrane from salt crystals and makes sure it does not get clogged which would reduce its functionality.

Our extremely breathable clothing is labeled with the "highly breathable" logo (all measurements by "inverted cup" method).

MARINEPOOL MULTI-LAYER-SYSTEM

The breathability of functional clothing is to a high grade determined by the kind of clothing worn underneath i.e. that breathable functional underwear and a complementing middle layer are worn. Please find more information on the 3-layer-system at www.marinepool.com

MARINEPOOL MPU-COATING

Is used for several models of our collection and was tried and tested over years, top results in many tests of renown magazines speak for themselves. In a highly sophisticated production process a polyurethane layer is applied onto Nylon or Polyester outside fabrics. This layer has microscopic pores, small enough to block the bigger molecules of raindrops and spray but big enough to let the smaller molecules of dampness from inside pass outside. The durability of gear equipped with this technology is highly dependent on proper maintenance.

Our breathable clothing is labeled with the "breathable" logo (all measurements by "inverted cup" method).

MARINEPOOL DWR EQUIPMENT

Durable Water Repellency

The best protection from dirt and moisture. Through the DWRimpregnation a thin invisible protection film is applied around the fibres which makes water drops run off without penetrating the fabric. This technology works in the same way regarding oil and other moist substances capable of leaving permanent stains on the clothing, thus keeping it clean. Use a piece of cloth to wipe off any substance of the fabric. To optimize the impregnation iron with low temperature once in a while. Please read the manual at www.marinepool.com!

Superb waterproofness and tough performance that withstands all-around outdoor conditions.

This smart nonporous membrane offers exceptional high waterproofness, moisture permeability and low condensation. Its smooth texture, lightweight configuration and high elasticity enhance wearer comfort. Ideal for all heavy-duty applications:

Extremely waterproof due to ultrathin nonporous membrane, windproof, high moisture permeability with minimal condensation, durable water repellency, soft, smooth and stretchable

MARINEPOOL RIPSTOP

The term ripstop summarizes all fabrics sharing common characteristics of specially woven cloth designed to stop any hole in the fabric from growing by the use of thicker, more tear resistant threads in the weaving pattern. This technology was initially used for sails and parachutes and has found its way into clothing.

MARINEPOOL Functional Lining

Numerous models of our functional jackets are equipped with functional lining. This lining, made from Polyester, is used in specific areas where perspiration is highest (e.g. the back). The lining actively absorbs moisture and conveys it to the membrane through which it can diffuse outside. Furthermore this lining is very elastic and is excellently suited for use in jackets with stretch fabric.

MARINEPOOL Softshell

SOFTSHELL is not only protecting you perfectly against wind, rain, snow and cold, it is as comfortable as a fleece jacket. It combines the advantages of a fleece jacket with the reliable protection of a functional jacket. Due to the stretch feature and the slim cut it is very suitable for sportsmen who want to protect themselves without losing their freedom to move. Waterproof: totally impervious to water (10.000 mm), breathable: allows perspiration to escape, wind stop: protects the body against cooling, due to fleece lining seams remain untaped.

MARINEPOOL FLEECE BONDED MICROFLEECE

Two micro fleece layers are laminated onto each other resulting in an extremely windproof and warm fleece. Anti-pilling technology keeps fluff from gathering into small balls on the surface of a fabric. Furthermore Marinepool uses special tight woven fleece which provides additional warmth and durability.

MARINEPOOL NEOPRENE

SUPRATLEX-REINFORCEMENT:

Neoprene suits have the highest strain at knees and seat. Supratex reinforcements are extremely tough and abrasion resistant and improve the life span of your suit substantially.

MARINEPOOL RASH GUARDS

QUICKDRY-FUNCTION

Quickly drying Nylon-fabric smooth texture, breathable, absorbs sweat from the skin within seconds,

Quickdry feature remains functional after washing

UV-PROTECTION

MARINEPOOL Standards

DIN NORM WATERPROOFNESS

Already little resistance like 1300 mm water column fabrics can be called "waterproof" according to Deutsche Industrie-Norm (German industrial standards).

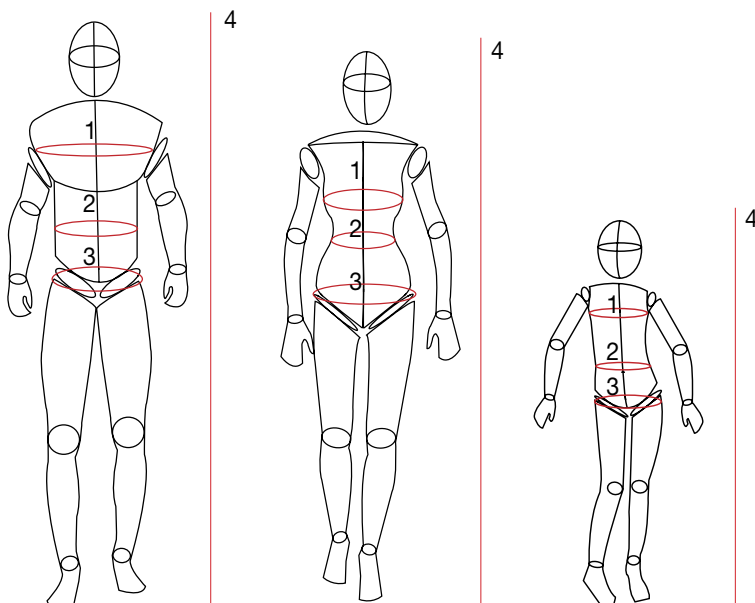

This of course tells nothing about the big differences in fabrics and conditions in which they are used. There is a big difference between wearing clothes in a light November rain or in rough conditions of a storm in the Southern Ocean. Gear used every day on a yacht obviously has to be a lot tougher than ordinary clothes.

Pressure on a fabric while sitting or kneeling is a lot higher than in normal conditions and 1.300mm are nowhere close to guarantee the protection needed to keep the body dry and comfortable. Therefore functional gear made by Marinepool is designed for different purposes, our waterproof gear ranges from 4.000 to 20.000 mm water column to make sure you stay dry whatever conditions you might be into.

Our waterproof gear is labeled with the "waterproof" logo.
